PRIVACY POLICY

Belgomilk CVBA (the "Company") or any of its affiliated companies shall treat the data of the participants in compliance with the Law of 08/12/92 on the Protection of Privacy. The Company may use these data for the promotion of its products and services, including the products and services of its sister companies. The participant has the right to inspect the data relating to him / her and, if desired, may request its correction or deletion to Belgomilk CVBA's customer service at Stationsstraat 149, B-8890 Moorslede, Belgium, or by sending an e-mail to brands@milcobel.be

The Company recommends you to carefully read the Privacy Policy before visiting the Website.

Registration of the personal data entails that:

- 1) You grant the Company permission to process and maintain your personal data as described in the Privacy Policy.
- 2) You agree to the Company, its associated companies and / or external service providers using your personal data for general marketing purposes including direct marketing, and sending you information via email, post or telephone as described in the Privacy Policy. Each future visit to the Company's Website implies acceptance of all provisions in this Policy. Please do not use the Website if you cannot agree to any of the provisions of this Privacy Policy.

Which personal data is collected by Belgomilk CVBA and why?

The Company may monitor some of your personal data (including your name, screen name, postal address, mobile phone number, mobile phone model, provider's name, date of birth, sex, email address, password, acceptance of this privacy policy, the existence of an opt-in-/opt-out formula for the receipt of electronic messages, photo, content made available by you). The Website may be accessible without prior registration or filling out personal data, while other sections are inaccessible without registration. Furthermore, if you contact the Company with a question, it will register your personal data to provide an answer to your question.

The "Contact" section

The Company encourages visitors to ask questions and make comments. The email addresses and certain other data of people making use of these sections are collected to facilitate the answering of questions. The content made available by you (e.g. uploaded photos, videos, reactions, blogs,...) on one of the sites operated by the Company or its partners, may without prior notification be used for interactive, educational or marketing related activities.

Games, competitions and promotional offers

The Company offers games, competitions and other features which require an online registration. Persons participating in these activities must enter certain personal data. Some of the data requested for this purpose are optional, others are mandatory (such as the email address or the home address) as they are needed to identify, inform or reward the winner with a special offer. The participants may be required to create a user name and password for certain activities.

Special offers and product information

The Company provides for the possibility to send communications concerning its services and products and special offers per email. The personal data you provide may be used to facilitate this communication.

Additional services

The Company also offers you the opportunity to enjoy special offers and to participate in special activities through offline technologies including SMS (short message service) and MMS (multimedia message service) or others. If you wish to participate in such activities, you may be asked to provide personal data such as your mobile phone number.

When are collected personal data passed on?

Subject to the provisions of this Privacy Policy, your personal details are not sold to unaffiliated third parties by the Company.

For the aforementioned purposes, the Company may transfer the personal data provided by you via the Website to the persons or companies selected to advertise and organize other activities for which you registered or in which upon your own request you would like to participate.

Beyond this limited forwarding of personal data, the Company may also provide its sister companies or unaffiliated third parties with general information on the Website's visitors. The Company may, inter alia, disclose the average age of the Website's visitors or the number of visitors from different geographical areas. Such general information may not contain data of individual visitors to the Website.

The Company may pass on personal and other data to a purchaser or successor in respect to the sales of the Company, an ancillary activity of the Company, or of almost all assets of the Company, affiliated companies or ancillary activities.

The Company shall also pass on personal data, if this is required by law or by judicial order, subpoenas or other legal processes.

The Company demands from individuals or companies to whom it provides collected personal data that they only use these data for the purpose for which they have been provided, that they protect the data appropriately and do not pass them on to any third parties.

The Company cannot be held liable for any damage arising from the non-compliance by unaffiliated third parties with their privacy obligations, nor is the Company responsible for the privacy rules and practices of other websites linked to the Site.

Which other data is monitored?

When visiting or interactively using the Website, so-called "click stream data" might be collected. This data may include information about your web browser and your operating system, the pages and information requested on the Website, the total time you spent on the Website and the domain name of the website which connected you with the Website. If during the registration process you formerly identified yourself as member of a business or organization, the Company might also register the fact that a representative of your business or organization visited the Website, along with other click stream data related to that visit. The Company combines the click stream data with your personal identification data while you are active on the Website to better align the Website with your interests and preferences. The Company does not collect click stream data when you are not on the Website, except for the domain name of the website from which you have accessed the Website.

Special remarks for parents

The Company takes its obligations in the framework of the applicable laws on the collection of personal data of children aged 12 and younger very seriously. Where appropriate, the Company shall provide children with specific guidelines to not provide personal data on the Website and / or take the appropriate steps to ensure that parents' approval was obtained before such data was requested.

The Company encourages all parents to inform their children about safe and responsible internet use.

How are your personal data protected?

The Company shall take measures to prevent unauthorised access to its websites and to protect your personal information from alteration, acquisition or misuse by unauthorised persons. Data including user names, passwords and credit card data provided by the users are secured. Nevertheless, the Company reminds its Website's visitors that no network, not even the internet, is completely safe. Consequently, the Company cannot be held liable in case of loss, damage or unauthorized acquisition of the personal data provided on the Website, or any damage resulting from said loss, damage or unauthorized acquisition.

How is the integrity of your personal data safeguarded?

The Company has developed procedures in order to keep your personal data accurate, complete, and up-to-date for the purpose for which it was collected and used. You may request, verify and, where appropriate, request correction of the data submitted by you. To access, change, or delete your personal information, please contact the Company's customer service at Stationsstraat 149, B-8890 Moorslede, Belgium, or by sending an e-mail to brands@milcobel.be

Data automatically placed on your computer - cookies

The Company might save certain data on your computer when you visit our Website. That data can take the form of a small text file, a cookie, which can help the Company to maximize your enjoyment of the Website in many different ways. For example, these cookies allow the Company to tailor a website to better match your interests and preferences. More specifically, the Website makes use of cookies to remember the preferred language you selected during your last visit, which sections of the Website are consulted most, where our visitors go and how much time they spend at their destination. Cookies can only be read by the server that has placed them on your computer and are not capable of transmitting codes or viruses.

If specific programmes on the Website are linked to the introduction of a user name and password, you may request to register your user name and password so that they are available to you for subsequent visits to the Website. That function is based on issuing a cookie.

Most internet browsers offer the possibility to erase cookies from the hard disk of your computer, to block cookies or to generate a warning message before any cookies are installed. Please refer to your browser instructions or help screen to learn more about these functions. Note that some of the Website's functions and programmes might be unavailable if the cookies are deleted or blocked. Some cookie applications in relation to the Website might be managed by unaffiliated entities invited by the Company to manage certain programmes and to accept specific visitor / client requests. The Company asks these entities to minimise their use of cookies to the applications as set out in this Privacy Policy, however, it cannot be held liable for the use of cookies by third parties.

How can you ask questions relating to the Privacy Policy and request your personal data?

Your data are provided on a voluntary basis and you have the right to refuse to make them available. Belgomilk CVBA or any of its affiliated companies shall treat the data of the participants in compliance with the Law of 08/12/92 on the Protection of Privacy. They may use these data for the promotion of their products and services, including the products and services of their subsidiaries and direct marketing. The participant has the right to inspect the data relating to him / her and, if desired, may request its correction or deletion to the Company's customer service at Stationsstraat 149, B-8890 Moorslede, Belgium, or by email to brands@milcobel.be. If you have any questions or issues relating to this Privacy Policy, if you wish to request personal data or if you wish to ask the Company to not use your personal data for a certain purpose, please follow the instructions mentioned above.

Amendments to this Privacy Policy

This is the only applicable Privacy Policy from the Company with respect to the use and collection of personal data through its websites and additionally with respect to the use and communication of these data. Other policies have no legal status, shall not be binding in any way on the Company, may not be used as replacement for this Privacy Policy and cannot be considered as a revised version or adaptation of this Privacy Policy.

The Company may revise this Privacy Policy periodically. Any substantial changes to the Privacy Policy will be published on the Website.
